CAPITALISM AND SOCIALISM

21:510:362 Sec. 01 Spring 2017 (index #18665)

This course examines the history of Western economic systems and ideologies from the origins of capitalism in early-modern Europe through the rise of socialism in the nineteenth century and social democracy in the twentieth.

READINGS

Course reader, available only at PortaPrint Publishing, 33 Halsey St., 973 622-1828

Note: The reader is not available at the campus bookstore or at New Jersey Books.

GRADING

Students are bound by the university's academic integrity policy, which appears here: <http://www.ncas.rutgers.edu/office-dean-student-affairs/academic-integrity-policy>. All students must sign the Rutgers Honor Pledge.

TESTS: There will be a midterm on Mon. Mar. 6 and a COMPREHENSIVE final exam on Mon. May 8, 6:20-9:20pm. The format for these tests will be a series of short essays (1/2 to 1 page). You should read the exam instructions (in the reader) very carefully before each exam.

LECTURE QUESTIONS: At the end of each session you must hand in one or two brief questions or comments on the material covered from that day. Grades are based on the number of days when you attend class and hand in a card; each unexcused absence lowers this score by five points. To receive credit, your card must contain a question or comment on the material for that session. You are required to bring a 3x5 card to class every time. Arriving late or leaving early three times equals one absence.

For an absence to be excused, you must provide written evidence of a valid reason for your absence, and all excuses must be in by the day of the final exam. Your overall course grade will fall by a half-letter (e.g., from B to C+) for each unexcused absence starting with the fourth one. Any student who misses eight or more sessions through any combination of excused and unexcused absences will not earn credit in this course; such students should withdraw from the class.

CLASS PARTICIPATION: Everyone is required to participate regularly in class discussions, either by asking questions or by making relevant comments. Grading is based on both the quantity and quality of participation. You will get separate scores for the two halves of the semester, and your final score will be an average of the two. Use of electronic devices in class will lower your score. No laptops allowed.

READING QUIZZES: Several times during the semester, you will be quizzed on the readings assigned for that day. These quizzes will be unannounced. The lowest grade on the quizzes will not count.

Lecture questions	5%
Class participation	10%
Reading quizzes	20%

Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines>. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus's disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form>. For more information please contact Kate Torres at \(973\)353-5375 or in the Office of Disability Services in the Paul Robeson Campus Center, in suite 219 or by contacting odsnewark@rutgers.edu.
