This course traces the history of immigration to the United States, with a particular emphasis on the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Proceeding chronologically, the course will center on several key themes. Firstly, we'll examine the changing immigration patterns and the historical causes and contexts that brought different groups of immigrants to the United States at different times. Secondly, we'll look specifically at how ethnic, racial, class, and gender differences shaped Americans’ debates about “fitness” for citizenship, freedom, and independence, and how these considerations and debates, in turn, shaped different immigrants’ experiences. This will involve analyzing the processes of national incorporation from the multiple perspectives of European, African, Asian, and Latino/a immigrants. The third and final focus will be on the impact of immigration on the economic, social, cultural, and political life of the United States.

Course Objectives

- Develop an understanding of the centrality of immigration and migration to United States history
- Understand the varied origins of (im)migrants to the U.S. and of the diverse experiences immigrants encountered
- Evaluate primary documents and secondary literature that illuminate immigration from a variety of experiences.

Attendance
Attendance is mandatory. Two unexcused absences lower your final grade by one letter grade. Any student who misses four or more sessions through any combination of excused and unexcused absences will not earn credit in this class. Such students should withdraw to avoid getting an F.

Class absence may be excused in case of illness requiring medical attention, curricular or extracurricular activities approved by the faculty, personal obligations claimed by the student and recognized as valid, recognized religious holidays, and severe inclement weather causing dangerous traveling conditions. All other absences including those due to a job or an interview will NOT be excused. For further detail on university regulations on class attendance see http://catalogs.rutgers.edu/generated/nwk-ug_0608/index.html

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism Policy
All written work submitted by students should be their own. Students need to be careful about distinguishing their own ideas and writings from other sources. Plagiarism includes quoting or paraphrasing from another source without properly citing it. Plagiarism is grounds for automatically failing the course. Further details can be found here http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/policy-on-academic-integrity.

All students are required to sign the Rutgers Honor Code Pledge. To receive credit, every major assignment must have your signature under the following phrase: “On my honor, I have neither received nor given any unauthorized assistance on this examination / assignment.
