CONKLIN LIBERATORS PANEL

Prof. Vickie Donaldson will moderate a panel discussion in her course, "Race, Poverty, and Protest," with participants in the 1969 Conklin Hall Takeover including Richard Roper, George Hampton, Janice Morrell, Harrison Snell, and Minnie Williams Cunningham.

This discussion is part of AFAM Week, a special week-long event to showcase the value of a major or minor in African American and African Studies and to present opportunities to learn more about our world-class faculty, course offerings, and career pathways. Our Department was founded as a result of the takeover and we are grateful to the Liberators for their activism.

For more information about AFAM Week visit sasn.rutgers.edu/afamweek.

Open to all Rutgers-Newark Students

December 5, 2019
10:00-11:20am
346 Conklin Hall
Rutgers-Newark

Breakfast Provided