Syllabus:

See "Syllabus Guidelines."

<https://sas.n.rutgers.edu/information/faculty-staff>

Final Exams:

- Schedule: <https://scheduling.newark.rutgers.edu/>
- Policy:
 - Final exams must be given at the time and date established by RU-N. Final exams must be given on the date and time listed on the Rutgers University-Newark final exam schedule.
 - No exams (either hourly exams or final exams) are to be scheduled during the final (14th) week of classes. Cumulative final exams, papers, and projects must be given or due during the official final exam period.
 - The scheduled "Reading Days" must be respected. Faculty may not schedule exams for those days or have papers or projects due on those days.

Cancellation of Courses:

- You are encouraged to prepare an alternative instructional strategy to provide continuity of instruction in the event of unexpected course cancellations (official closings, delayed openings, etc.): directed readings, special assignments, online activities, or the like.
- If it is necessary to cancel a course meeting, you must announce it to your students as soon as possible, post the cancellation in Canvas, and offer a make-up session. You may not require students to attend these sessions.

Special Permission Numbers:

A Special Permission Number (SPN) is a 6-digit number used to allow a student to register for a course that is full (has reached its “stop point” or capacity). Your department can provide its procedures for use of these numbers.

Student Correspondence:

All Rutgers University students and instructors are assigned a University-managed e-mail account to be utilized for purposes of official correspondence.

Rosters & Grade Submission:

Rutgers Electronic Grading & Information System (REGIS) allows instructors to view rosters, submit warning and final grades, and grade changes. Access to course rosters/REGIS is granted by your academic department.

<https://registrar.newark.rutgers.edu/regis-grading-instructions-0>

- Grading Convention:

A list of acceptable grades is also displayed at the top of the course roster in REGIS.

<http://registrar.newark.rutgers.edu/final-grades>

- Progress Reports:

Send early alerts to students using the Progress Reports feature of the RU-N4Success software platform (<https://run4success.campus.eab.com>).

- Opportunity to provide students with feedback on their performance early and midway through the semester, giving them time to take action to improve their academic outcomes.
- Can use pre-set concern reasons, or indicate "For Advisor Attention" and add comments in an open-text response box. When progress reports are submitted for students, emails are sent to students' ScarletMail and depending on the concern reason, notification also will go to the appropriate campus office.
- Instructors will be prompted via email to submit progress reports twice a semester (typically within the first 6 weeks, and at the mid-point of the semester).

- Grade Appeals:

Students must first address issues with the instructor directly. If the issue cannot be resolved, the student may appeal in writing to the Department Chair or Undergraduate Coordinator. After appealing to the instructor and the department, unresolved concerns may be appealed in writing to the Dean.

- Posting/Notification of Grades: It is a violation of the Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act (FERPA) to publicly post grades either by the student's name, student identification numbers, or Social Security number. Instructors may notify students of their individual grades via e-mail, provided the e-mail is sent from a University e-mail account, to a University e-mail. Notification of grades may also be made via the use of a course management website.

Course Evaluations:

The Student Instructional Rating Survey (SIRS) is a system-wide survey of students for their comments about their experience in the classroom.

<https://otear.rutgers.edu/sirs/>

Course Attendance:

Students are expected to be in attendance at all regularly scheduled course meetings. The Course Attendance policy details permissible exceptions to this requirement, the process for absence notification, and opportunities to complete missed exercises and/or examinations.

<https://policies.rutgers.edu/sites/default/files/10.2.7%20-%20current.pdf>

Self-Reporting Absence Application:

All students are responsible for timely notification of their instructors regarding any expected absences as a result of any of the items listed in the policy. Instructors may request students use the Self-Reporting Absence Application.

<https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/>

Religious Holiday Policy:

- It is University policy to excuse without penalty students who are absent from class because of religious observance, and to allow the make-up of work missed because of such absence. Examinations and special required out-of-class activities shall not ordinarily be scheduled on those days when religiously observant students refrain from participating in secular activities. Absences for reasons of religious obligation shall not be counted for purposes of reporting.
- Students are advised to provide timely notification to instructors about necessary absences for religious observances and are responsible for making up the work or exams according to an agreed-upon schedule.

Field Trips & Off-Campus Activities:

If organizing off-campus field trips or activities, you must contact the Department of Risk Management & Insurance at least two weeks prior to the planned activity. Informed consent waivers may not be developed and utilized without the express review and approval of the Department of Risk Management & Insurance.
