Course Description:

This course will examine the almost 350 year history of the nation’s third oldest city, Newark NJ. Our goal will be to gain an understanding of both the critical events that shaped the city specifically, but also to engage in the narrative threads that define urban evolution in the United States more broadly. We will begin our story before the Puritans arrived and end it with an assessment of where we are today. This course is how Newark became Newark, and all the meanings that encompasses.

Through class discussion, students will interact with the materials, the instructor, and their peers. In the process, they will practice both their public speaking skills, and learn how to engage critically with the arguments and evidence of the texts. Students will also regularly practice their writing skills in essay exams and papers. In both the written assignments and the class discussions, students will develop their analytical skills by identifying the course readings’ main theses, supporting arguments, evidence, assumptions, and rhetorical strategies.

Grading and Assignments:

Exam One: 25%
Exam Two: 25%
Scavenger Hunt Project: 30%
Reading Response Papers 10%
Quizzes, Class Participation, and Attendance: 10%
Readings:

All readings are posted on Blackboard.

You are required to read what is listed on the schedule below BEFORE you attend class and you must read ALL READINGS each class.

It is essential that you bring each days reading with you to class.

Reading Response Papers:

You must submit FIVE typed response papers for FIVE readings on the syllabus that have a star next to them.

Response papers are due via email before the start of class on the day reading is assigned. You CANNOT just hand five in at the end of the semester.

The response should be 1-2 pages.

In your response you can focus on any of these three topics:

1. The significance of document in the larger historical Newark narrative
2. A section or point that stood out to you and why
3. A connection it had to a previous reading or topic discussed in class

Class Participation and Attendance:

Attending class is not optional. Class lectures not only include discussions on your assigned readings, but the material presented is what you will be tested on. In-class participation will improve your grade in the course; whereas unexcused absentness and lateness will negatively affect your grade.

Any student who misses four or more sessions through any combination of excused and unexcused absences will not earn credit in this class. Such students should withdraw to avoid getting an F.

Scavenger Hunt:

*The assignment will be distributed during the first month of class.

*I will also schedule a walking tour of Newark towards of the end of the semester during the day for those who are interested and/or available.

Academic Integrity, Plagiarism, and Cheating
Integrity is fundamental to the academic enterprise. It is violated by such acts as borrowing or purchasing assignments (including but not limited to term papers, essays, and reports) and other written assignments, using concealed notes or crib sheets during examinations, copying the work of others and submitting it as one’s own, and misappropriating the knowledge of others. The sources from which one derives one’s ideas, statements, terms, and data, including Internet sources, must be fully and specifically acknowledged in the appropriate form; failure to do so, intentionally or unintentionally, constitutes plagiarism.

Violations of academic integrity may result in a lower grade or failure in a course and in disciplinary actions with penalties such as suspension or dismissal from the College.

The university's policy on academic integrity is available at http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/files/documents/AI_Policy_9_01_2011.pdf

All students are required to sign the Rutgers Academic Integrity Pledge and the Rutgers Honor Pledge on each exam.

“On my honor, I have neither received nor given any unauthorized assistance on this examination / assignment.”
