COURSE SYNOPSIS
This course will explore the narratives of America from pre-colonial civilizations to the Civil War by analyzing the stories Americans told of themselves that contoured their experiences. In discussing how these narratives intersect, interact and sometimes contradict each other, we will discover the complexities in American life. A number of themes structure this survey of American history including race, gender, sexuality and political economy. Students will learn how a historical perspective of these categories inform our present experience. Students will also develop analytical skills in the written assignments and the class discussions by identifying the main theses, supporting arguments, evidence, assumptions and rhetorical strategies of the course readings.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES
• Identify and apply the key historical concepts of change-over-time, cause and effect, agency, historical empathy and continuity and discontinuity, and recognize how these concepts are employed in the historical method.
• Analyze and interpret primary sources with attention to audience, authorship and context.
• Recognize some of the ways in which historians have conflicting interpretations of the past.
• Produce a paper with a clear thesis and appropriate citations based on strong evidence drawn from historical sources.
• Identify and discuss the importance of struggles for equal rights, the increasing engagement of the U.S. in the world, the development of the American economy, the expanding scope and power of the federal government, and shifting attitudes and policies regarding diversity in the United States.

REMOTE LEARNING
This course combines synchronous and asynchronous remote learning strategies. Video lectures will be recorded and posted to Blackboard on the dates indicated on the course schedule. Weekly discussion secessions will take place via Zoom according to the times and dates indicated on the course schedule. This is an opportunity for students to connect assigned readings to lecture themes and ask questions about the lectures they have viewed. Students can schedule office hours appointments by emailing the instructor and appointments will also be held via Zoom. Exams will be administered electronically, and students will have a twenty-four hours to complete exams and submit them to Blackboard. Essay assignments will also be administered electronically via Blackboard.

READINGS
All readings will be posted to Blackboard. Additional reading readings will be posted to Blackboard. They are divided into two groups: Primary Documents and Articles – historical essays (secondary sources) that discuss the period under study.

ASSIGNMENTS

Participation: This course will have some synchronous components. Students will view recorded lectures on their own time (posted to Blackboard) and are also required to participate in weekly discussion sessions held on the Blackboard Collaborate application. Everyone is both expected and required to participate in class discussions. The participation grade will reflect the quality and quantity of your in-class participation.

Attendance is mandatory. Any student who misses four or more sessions through any combination of excused and unexcused absences will not earn credit in this class. Such students should withdraw to avoid getting an F. Recognized grounds for absence are illness requiring medical attention, curricular or extracurricular activities approved by the faculty, personal obligations claimed by the student and recognized as valid, recognized religious holidays, and severe inclement weather causing dangerous traveling conditions.

Paper Proposal: Students will develop a strong thesis and identify secondary sources to support their analysis of a primary source. The professor will approve these proposals and papers will be discussed with the class in a peer-review workshop. DUE 10/19. Late proposals without documented excuse will not be accepted.

Primary Source Essay: Students will write one 7-10 PAGE essay that will engage primary sources. Over the course of the semester, students will learn how to interpret and connect each primary source to an idea covered in our readings and lectures. These essays will give students an opportunity to demonstrate their skills as researchers and writers. DUE 12/7. Late papers without documented excuse will not be accepted.

Exams: Students are required to complete two take-home exams, one midway through the semester and one at the end of the semester. These exams will include identification questions, multiple-choice questions, short essays and one long essay. Students must submit exams electronically according to scheduled due date and time. There will be no make-up exams without a documented excuse.

VIOLENCE PREVENTION AND VICTIM ASSISTANCE
Rutgers faculty are committed to helping create a safe learning environment for all students and for the university as a whole. If you have experienced any form of gender or sex-based discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, relationship violence, or stalking, know that help and support are available. Rutgers has staff members trained to support survivors in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, and more. The University strongly encourages all students to report any such incidents to the University. Please be aware that all Rutgers employees (other than those designated as confidential resources such as advocates, counselors, clergy and healthcare providers as listed in Appendix A to Policy 10.3.12) are required to report information about such discrimination and harassment to the University. This means that if you tell a faculty member about a situation of sexual harassment or sexual violence, or other related misconduct, the faculty member must share that information with the University’s Title IX Coordinator. If you wish to speak with a staff member who is confidential and does not have this reporting responsibility, you may contact the Office for Violence Prevention and Victim Assistance at (973)-353-1918, or at run.vpva@rutgers.edu. ACCOMMODATIONS
Rutgers University Newark (RU-N) is committed to the creation of an inclusive and safe learning environment for all students. RU-N has identified the following resources to further the mission of access and support:

- Students with Disabilities: Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. The Office of Disability Services (ODS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter barriers due to disability. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact ODS, register, have an initial appointment, and provide documentation. Once a student has completed the ODS process (registration, initial appointment, and documentation submitted) and reasonable accommodations are determined to be necessary and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be provided to the student. The student must give the LOA to each course instructor, followed by a discussion with the instructor. This should be completed as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at ods.rutgers.edu. Contact ODS: (973) 353-5375 or ods@newark.rutgers.edu.

- Religious Holiday Policy and Accommodations: Students are advised to provide timely notification to instructors about necessary absences for religious observances and are responsible for making up the work or exams according to an agreed-upon schedule. The Division of Student Affairs is available to verify absences for religious observance, as needed: (973) 353-5063 or DeanofStudents@newark.rutgers.edu.

- Counseling Services: Counseling Center Room 101, Blumenthal Hall, (973) 353-5805 or http://counseling.newark.rutgers.edu/.

- Students with Temporary Conditions/Injuries: Students experiencing a temporary condition or injury that is adversely affecting their ability to fully participate in their courses should submit a request for assistance at: https://temporaryconditions.rutgers.edu.

CITATION FAQ

What do you need to cite?

Any phrase, sentence or paragraph that you have taken from another source, even if it’s a sentence fragment. For example, if you use the phrase “to be or not to be: that is the question,” you must provide a citation to the relevant page in a published edition of William Shakespeare’s play Hamlet. As a general rule, if you are using words that someone else wrote, you must cite. Failure to do so constitutes plagiarism. Any information that you found in another source (and isn’t common knowledge), even if you paraphrase. For example, if you write something like “almost ten per cent of the adult males in the United States in 1924 were members of the Ku Klux Klan,” you have to say where you got that information. If you don’t, how do I know that you’re not making it up?

As a general rule, you don’t have to provide citations for information that we covered in class.

What happens if you don’t cite?

It depends. The highest grade that a term paper without citations will receive is C+. If you quote substantially from another source and do not (a) indicate that it is a quote and (b) indicate where the quote came from, I will consider this plagiarism. You will receive a zero (0) on the paper and I will submit it to the Dean’s office for review.

If you don’t know whether you should cite a passage, quote or information, err on the side of caution and cite it.

What do you need?

As a general rule, you will need a bibliography page and footnotes or parenthetical notes in text for all of your references. Please use either the University of Chicago/Turabian citation style or the simplified citation style on the next page.

SUBMISSION POLICY

All assignments must be submitted to turnitin.com on Blackboard. No assignments will be accepted after the deadline, except with prior arrangement. If you miss a class – and a deadline – due to illness or other excused absence, you must inform me, and submit the assignment to turnitin.com (to be followed with hard copy at the earliest opportunity). Late paper submissions will be accepted for one week with a one-mark penalty for each day late, and only with prior arrangement. Assignments must be typed double-spaced in 12-point Times New Roman on white paper, stapled or bound in a cover. Handwritten submissions will not be accepted.

PRIMARY AND SECONDARY SOURCES

Historians refer to primary and secondary sources. A primary source is a document, speech, or other sort of evidence written, created or otherwise produced during the time under study, or by a participant. Primary sources offer an inside view of a particular event. Secondary sources provide interpretation and analysis of primary sources. Secondary sources are usually (though not always) written by professional historians and are one step removed from the original event.

Citation Basics

As a rule, historians cite sources according to the University of Chicago style. If you plan to pursue further studies in history, you will find it advisable to acquire A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, Eighth Edition: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers by Kate L. Turabian. For the purposes of this course, you may used the simplified guide below.
